Self-Introduction

Hello, I’m Shravan Sapate, and I'm excited to connect with you as my CDC Faculty Coordinator. I look forward to growing and learning together in this environment.

I’m from the vibrant city of Nagpur, known for its oranges and culture. My early education journey began in k. john public schools in Nagpur, where I completed both my schooling and HSSC. It was here that I first developed a love for academics and a passion for learning across subjects, particularly in statistics, which has shaped my career interests today.

Personal Qualities & Strengths:

I consider myself an optimistic and dedicated individual who enjoys setting goals and challenging myself. Friends and family often describe me as a patient listener and a proactive team player—qualities I believe are essential for both personal growth and professional success. I believe that every new day is an opportunity to learn something new, and I try to maintain that mindset consistently.

Talents & Skills:

My skill set includes both technical and interpersonal skills. I’m proficient in web-development, c, c++, java, python, power BI, which has given me a strong foundation in machine learning. Beyond academics, I have honed communication that help me connect effectively with peers and mentors alike.

Interests & Hobbies:

Outside of academics, I have a range of interests that keep me balanced and inspired. I’m passionate about my hobby’s basketball, photography, video editing, which allows me to unwind and explore new perspectives. I also enjoy staying physically active, whether it’s through physical workout, GYM as it helps me maintain focus and energy in my daily life.

Career Goals & Aspirations:

Looking ahead, I’m focused on building a career in machine learning field and I want to start business of saffron cultivation where I aim to contribute meaningfully and make a positive impact on nation. My ambition is to not only grow technically but also to build the kind of leadership skills that will help me support and motivate others around me. I’m excited to learn from everyone here and to gain valuable experiences that will guide me towards these goals.

Thank you for this opportunity to introduce myself. I’m looking forward to a wonderful journey ahead!
